

Tanned Hide

Object Card

A tanned hide is one that has been cleaned and processed to make it soft. Often the fur was taken off the hide when it was cleaned. The Plains Indians used tanned buffalo hides to make tipi covers, cradleboards, clothing, bags for holding food, quivers for arrows, and much more.

